Welcome to Thermae Bath Spa

Welcome to Thermae Bath Spa, where you can now bathe in Bath's naturally warm, mineral-rich waters, as the Celts and Romans did over 2,000 years ago.

By day and by night, Thermae is a remarkable combination of 'old and new' and offers somewhere special to relax and enjoy a sense of well-being.

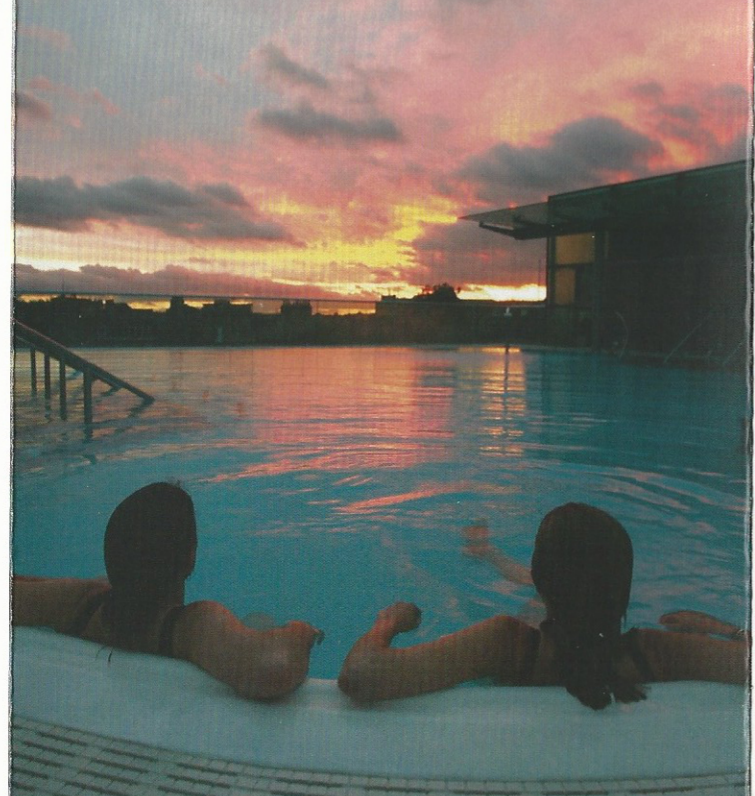

The Waters of Bath

The natural thermal waters fell as rain around 10,000 years ago and then sank to a depth of about 2kms. Here, they are heated by high temperature rocks before rising back through one of the three springs in the centre of the City.

First discovered by Prince Bladud around 863BC, the waters have been the constant thread throughout the history of Bath.

The thermal waters in all four baths at Thermae Bath Spa contain over 42 different minerals and are the optimum bathing temperature of 33.5°C (92°F).

Thermae Bath Spa is located in the heart of Bath, close to Bath Abbey and the Roman Baths. Thermae is featured on all the main waymarkers.
